What's Going On?

At The State Capital:

Only one company bid to replace Minnesota's DMV computer system. It got the contract.

From ST. PAUL PIONEER PRESS: And the winner is ... the only company that wants the job. That job is replacing Minnesota's botched, belittled and beleaguered computer system for vehicle registrations and titles known as MNLARS. On Thursday, officials announced that the job would go to Fast Enterprises, the same company that revamped the state's driver's license system to bring it in line with federal Real ID security regulations and has rolled out vehicle systems in almost a dozen other states. Read more here.

Chamber Member Meeting:

Quarterly Member Meeting!

Save the date for our next quarterly chamber member meeting. Here we will keep you up to date on what we've been up to, a recap of Sinclair Lewis Days, what is coming up, and a chance to network with your peers! Rolls, coffee, and juice will be provided.
