

Bruce G. Clinton

Bruce G. Clinton is the founder of BusinessWise, LLC, an executive coaching and consulting firm, which specializes in helping entrepreneurial organizations solve strategic problems associated with growth and transition, and co-founder of ASearch, LLC a retained search firm which takes a unique organizational development approach to removing the risk from hiring key people. Bruce is an expert in organization and management development, having spent over thirty five years as a consultant in the field. He has run many seminars in management / leadership skill development. He is a noted speaker who has appeared on numerous national convention programs including; the National Association of Personnel Services, the National Associations of Medical Equipment Suppliers and the National Association of Electrical Distributors. He is the author of: "The Secrets of Building A Great Organization...what your lawyer and accountant Can't tell you!", which can be found on Amazon.

Prior to founding BusinessWise, Bruce was president of Organizational Development Associates, Inc., co-founder of Entrepreneurial Resource Group, Inc., and the founder of Entrepreneurial Leadership Councils dedicated to the development of peers who share the desire to build strong organizations.

Bruce's clients have included companies in all sectors of business and industry, and many family-owned businesses, all over the United States. His consulting clients have included the following: human resource companies, insurance service companies, real estate brokerage and development companies, durable medical equipment distributors, manufacturers, as well as professional practices and non-profit organizations.

Bruce is a graduate of Hobart College with a dual major of Economics and Psychology. He has a MBA from the University of New Haven, RCC (Registered Corporate Coach) & Registered Business Coach (RBC) designations and is a Life Member of World Association Business Coaches (WABC). He and his wife, Susan, have five children and nine grandsons and one granddaughter.

Topics:

Building A Great Organization

Selection-The Beginning Or The Beginning of The End!

The Keys To Building A TEAM

The Cost of Average And Poor Workers Instead of Top Producers

The Cycles of A Privately Owned Business

Developing Ideal Clients

Audience:

Business owners of fast growing companies seeking a leadership position among their competitors or wanting to maintain and grow their leadership position and influence in their communities.

Leaders of companies nearing succession or exit and needing to develop a plan over the next 2-4 years.

Company owners who are experiencing slower growth or stagnation and are unsure of the causes- in some cases business owners who sense something is not right and need help from an objective experienced consultant.

Contact:

Phone: 203-458-1219

Website: www.business-wise.com

Social Media Links:

<https://twitter.com/bgclinton>

www.linkedin.com/in/bruceclinton/

www.facebook.com/bruce.clinton1