

Adventures in Leadership and Teamwork Time Tested Tools for Tough Times

Put yourself in this picture! Your ship is crushed and you are left stranded on solid pack ice in Antarctica. Could your team make it to safety? Would your leaders rise to the challenge? How would you coach this ship's captain?

Jillian Murphy uses a unique approach to leadership and team development with two gripping stories of adventure and survival. Her programs are designed to help leaders and teams who are faced with adversity, uncertainty and change. The dramatic stories reveal specific strategies for success that can be applied in any challenging business environment.

The first adventure, Timeless Leadership Lessons from Shackleton's Epic Antarctic Expedition, highlights the power of effective leadership, and emphasizes Shackleton's role in the success of the Endurance expedition. The second, Critical Teamwork Lessons from the World's Toughest Ocean Races, uses the lens of distributed leadership to explore how team members can work together to survive and triumph against tough obstacles and fierce competition.

Jillian's programs are based on her bestselling books, and illustrate Critical Strategies for Leadership and Teamwork extracted from over 25 years of research. These essential principles—which are vividly captured in the presentations—make the difference between success and failure.

Jillian Murphy is co-author of Into the Storm and Leading at The Edge. She is a dynamic keynote speaker who has been featured at numerous conferences and client events around the world. As an executive coach, Jillian has helped leaders and teams achieve their highest level of performance. Jillian is Director of Client Services at The Syncretics Group.
