Eggs and Issues Recap

Mayor Mark A. Murphy addressed the state of the city of Orange in our first virtual Eggs and Issues on Tuesday, April 28th.

On March 16th, the city of Orange declared a local emergency in a response to the COVID-19 virus. He mentioned that due to virus the lives of multiple people has rapidly changed in a short amount of time. The city's priority is the safety of its residents and all the safety services are at full capacity and operating 7/24/365.

Orange Home Grown Market reopens

"After making the tough decision, the right decision, to close the Farmers Market to be safe. It was joyful to be able to open it again in 3 weeks with all the proper controls and State and County guidelines. I am happy for the farmers and their customers."

-Jack Raubolt, Vice Chair of the Orange Chamber volunteered in this effort.

CHOC needs your help!

Our healthcare system's response to the Covid-19 pandemic continues to be challenged by widespread supply chain disruptions.
