And what are people saying about Robert?

"After spinning in circles and getting nowhere with my career, I decided to contact Robert. Not sure of what to expect, we met at a coffee shop where we talked in depth about myself and my values, interests and previous work/life experiences. After our first meeting I immediately felt a sense of confidence and determination. Over the next few weeks we dug a bit deeper into my true passions in life. Everything that I had kept buried suddenly started to surface. It turns out I wasn't being true to myself. With Robert's Career Counselling I was able to tap into those core values and interests. He provided me with excellent insight, a variety of helpful resources and the ability to pursue the careers that would allow my talents to shine. His upbeat attitude and down to earth personality make him very easy to talk to." Aimee B. – Client
