Niles Canyon Railway: A Railroad Museum Where the Exhibits Come to Life

Join us in celebrating 30 years of restoring vintage diesel and steam train travel in scenic Niles Canyon. This historic route linked America’s east and west coasts by rail for the first time as part of the original transcontinental route.

History
April 1985: Southern Pacific Right of Way through Niles Canyon acquired by Alameda County. Alameda County Supervisors vote 5 - 0 to review the Pacific Locomotive Association proposal.
June 1985: The last Southern Pacific operations over portions of Niles-Altamont line.
1985: Southern Pacific pulls up rails through Niles Canyon. SP wanted too much money to leave rail behind.
December 1, 1987: The Pacific Locomotive Association enters into an agreement with officials from Alameda County and begins rebuilding the historic rail line. This is the birth of the Niles Canyon Railway.
May 21, 1988: Pacific Locomotive Association brought railroad passenger operations back to life in Niles Canyon.
November 21, 1998: Sunol Depot, built in 1884, was acquired by Alameda County and later moved back to the station site and restored to its original configuration.

April 9, 2006: This marked passenger service in Niles/Fremont. A golden spike ceremony dedicated the opening of the Niles/Fremont Station with Congressman Pete Stark, as well as City of Fremont and Alameda County representatives.

In 2018, Niles Canyon Railway is celebrating 30 years of operating a tourist railroad in Niles Canyon. As an all-volunteer, non-profit organization, they rely on the Train of Lights, their big holiday season fundraiser, to support the restoration of their train engines and rolling stock. On average, the Train of Lights attracts over 23,000 visitors during the operating nights in November and December each year. Each car has a unique theme for both interior and exterior with detailed photographs to guide the decorating teams. At the end of the season, each car has an ID number and decorations are stored in marked bins - ready for the next year. Twenty-five years ago, it started out as a few lights on train cars for the members and now it is the longest Holiday Train in the world.

The Pacific Locomotive Association, Inc. operates the Niles Canyon Railway as a living history museum interpreting the importance of the heritage railroads in the development of California and the nation. The purpose of the organization is to preserve the physical aspects and atmosphere of Pacific Coast railroading during the period from 1910 to 1960. Their mission is to develop and operate a working railroad museum for the benefit of the general public.

Conductor Mark Miller is assigning the “Junior Engineer” rating to some young travelers while in route to Sunol behind historic steam engine Clover Valley #4. A small sticker brings priceless smiles to young guests, and this is what volunteering at NCRy is all about.

Will he talk about growing pressure from the State of California to build more housing; former Council member Matt Sullivan’s legal challenge against Costco after his recent failed attempt to gather enough signatures for a referendum; the future of downtown and the potential for a new library and civic center? Could he announce the City’s new public safety contracts? Expect updates on the Tri-ValleyCare candidates’ forum and on the Mayors’ Council’s plan to address the City’s continuing housing shortage. Accomplishments of many to highlight annual business luncheon

The holidays are over, but the celebrating will continue as preparations are made for the annual transition of the chamber’s volunteer leadership on Tuesday, January 23, at The Club at Ruby Hill.

2017 Chairman of the Board Todd Moberg will pass the gavel to 2018 Chair Harold Roundtree, CEO of UNCLE Credit Union.

Under Moberg’s leadership, the chamber experienced an outstanding year. He was instrumental in raising the Chamber’s engagement with social media; making it a significant part of every mixer, ribbon cutting and special event; generating countless Facebook likes for hosts, video and photo posts by attendees, Twitter followings and more.

Moberg was also very proud of the efforts made by the Pleasanton Young Professionals to raise their game in 2017. “The PYPs’ first ever fundraiser, Charity on Tap, was a big success and netted $8,000 for 4H of the Tri-Valley,” said Moberg. “We had so many significant volunteers in 2017, I am really looking forward to having great volunteers in 2017, I am really looking forward to having great volunteers in 2017. "We had so many great volunteers in 2017, I am really looking forward to having that opportunity to recognize them on the 23rd.”

Ballistic United Soccer Club Celebrates 50 Years!
1968-2018 Soccer Season

In 1968, one small, local youth soccer organization named the Ballistic United Soccer Club began. Today, 50 years later, it is one of the largest and most respected youth soccer organizations in the country with 1500+ youth members.

“Fifty years is an amazing accomplishment and we will spend this special season proudly commemorating the golden anniversary of one of the first and top-rated youth soccer organizations in Northern California if not the country” according to Tim Ryerson, BUSC Director of Club Events and Partnerships.

“To celebrate the Ballistic United Soccer Club, a nonprofit organization that believes in giving back through its player scholarships and other leadership programs, will be highlighting this benchmark throughout the season with a series of special events and fundraisers reflective of the club’s community-focused foundation.”

“As we look toward the next 50 years, the club is poised to evolve and grow. We want to engage the local businesses of Pleasanton as partners so we can continue to offer these positive programs to the children because they are the future community members” said Ryerson.

Daniel Curtis –
Contractor with Character

Daniel Curtis, General Contractor, and Owner of Triangle Construction, is located in the Dublin area of the Tri-Valley. He is a professional who sells his character. That said, Daniel’s principal business is in assuring his clients that he is a man of his word, and his integrity rings true.

Daniel works to please his clients. He wants them to feel, that by choosing him for the job, he is helping the community. “I believe in starting with the community and going from there.” Daniel helps family, friends and neighbors always.

A contractor for the past 20 years, Daniel feels blessed for his skillset, clients and many opportunities in which he is provided. He reaches out to those neighbors who have been ingrained in the community for 30+ years to help with their remodeling and updating projects.

Honor comes second-to-none in Daniel’s business, as word-of-mouth testimonials, reviews and referrals are the norm. He is a five-star contractor and is thankful every day for that designation by his clients.

Daniel not only works for the community; he works in the community. With “give-back attitude,” there are several causes that are dear to his heart. Once yearly, Daniel flies to Mexico to help with Feeding Cabo Kids. He is involved with Feed My Starving Children, where he has helped to pack 125,000 meals, and deliver 500 meals to disadvantaged families in the Bay Area. He has worked with a myriad of non-profits, including support for a Down’s Syndrome organization, offering landscaping services. “We were put here to help others.”

Business Spotlight

Mortensen & Son: A Bay Area Tradition Since 1914

Handed down through three generations, Mortensen & Son Carpet Cleaning is thriving in this millennium.

Great Grandfather Joseph Mortensen came to the U.S. from Denmark, and settled in New York. Upon being influenced by the Mormon religion in the 1830’s, he followed Brigham Young to Salt Lake City.

Grandfather Roy Mortensen, at an early age, rode a bicycle to Oakland from Salt Lake City and walked door-to-door for odd jobs. After cleaning one woman’s area rugs by hand with soap and a brush, he thought this might be a viable trade. He started Mortensen & Son in 1914 and opened his shop in San Leand, CA. Even today, Doug Mortensen, current family owner, has fond memories of the Merza machine, a massive apparatus that the work in carpet cleaning.

Doug’s father, after his service as a pilot in World War II, began the business of laying and cleaning carpets and upholstery. In 1980, he left the business to sons, Steve and Tom, who began residential and commercial cleaning services, namely restaurant cleaning. Today, Doug Mortensen, the sole family owner/member engages in the family company.

Doug is proud of his heritage and what it still means today. The hard work and tenacity shown by his family is an inspiration, affecting the way that Doug runs his business. With a desire to keep the integrity high, and family name top of mind, Doug’s skill set and professionalism demonstrates to his clients that this is what you do – you earn the business.

The traditions of determination, honor, and an honest day’s work still ring true at Mortensen & Son. Services offered: carpet, upholstery, and tile cleaning, pressure, and window washing are performed to the clients’ total satisfaction and nothing less. Cleaning such buildings as, Bank of America, the Cliff Hotel, Macy’s, KGO-TV and reminiscent icons of Gump’s, and I. Magnin, are just a few commercial buildings on Mortensen & Son’s impressive resume.

For Doug Mortensen, as with each generation of Mortensen & Son Carpet Cleaning, it has always been about family, hard work, and pleasing the customer. When it comes to getting it right for his customers, “Your intent is our intent.”

You may reach Mortensen & Son, and Sav-On Janitorial Supply in Dublin, CA at 925-829-7777.

The bad news is that time flies. The good news is that you are the pilot. Lori Brandes, owner of Time 4 Order, says “So take control today.”

One room at a time, one project at a time is all it takes. If your current methods don’t seem to be working, maybe it’s time to move forward in a different manner.

As a Professional Organizer, Brandes’ goal is to help clients cut through the clutter and take control of the chaos in their homes and office. She assists those who value the concept of being organized, yet don’t have the time, the inclination, or the expertise to do so.

“Organizing has given me joy since I was young,” says Brandes. “Being able to help others find order in their daily lives gives me great satisfaction. Everyone has unique priorities, cherished possessions, and things they can let go of. My job is to help my clients find a comfortable balance.”

Time for Order opened in 2003, shortly after Brandes attended a class titled, “What You Were Born to Do”, at a local college. “The instructor suggested, ‘You need to be a professional organizer.’ I said, ‘A what?’” This was before many people even knew something like ‘organizing’ existed. Brandes went home, did some research and found the organization NAPO (National Association of Productivity and Organizing Professionals). Time 4 Order was launched the following month. The message of the class was simple: our professions need to be brought pleasure. Life is too short for it not to.

“I provide clients with ideas, support, motivation, and information to get focused and gain control, reducing stress, allowing increased time, energy, and space for what matters in life,” said Brandes. “As a team, we work together to create order, where there once was clutter.”

Her approach to organizing is without judgment or criticism towards her clients. Her goal is to provide a road map to lead you to your goals. The definition of clutter is postponed decisions. Create a richer and fuller life by being organized. Let Lori Brandes help you. Contact her at 925-846-8476 or learn more at www.time4order.com.

2018 Chamber Ambassadors

The Pleasanton Chamber’s Ambassador Group is a committee of 40 chamber members. They are instrumental in furthering the Pleasanton Chamber’s reputation as one of the most engaging and successful Chambers in the Bay Area. Throughout the year, they visit existing members ensuring they are utilizing the benefits of membership. They participated in over 50 ribbon cuttings celebrating the opening of the new business and welcoming them into the organization. The majority of the time you order a drink at one of the monthly mixers, it is an ambassador who serves it to you with a smile! They also volunteer for our annual Community Service Awards, Golf Tournament, State of the City Luncheon, and Beyond the Cloud event. This year, the committee will be chaired by Ken Novell from CMIT Solutions of Pleasanton and Carol Rosenblatt of Crown Trophy. Ken and Carol are looking forward to working with this dynamic group and incorporating some new programs and bonding activities.
