It’s no secret that science, technology, engineering, arts and math (STEAM) are all important subjects in education, but what about in early education? While some of these topics may seem too complex for preschoolers to grasp, child care providers and parents can start laying the foundation for certain STEAM-related skills and concepts earlier than you may think. The key is introducing the right activities at the right time.

At Primrose School of Pleasanton, children learn and practice STEAM concepts—as well as concepts in language and literacy, social studies, music, physical development, character development and life skills—continuously throughout the day as part of the Primrose-exclusive approach called Balanced Learning®. While STEAM often provokes thoughts of science experiments, building blueprints or video games, for young children, STEAM looks more like the following:

Science – Encouraging children to investigate and answer their own questions.

Technology – Refers to using simple tools like crayons, rulers and magnifying glasses, as well as more complex ones like microscopes and computers.

Engineering – Helping children recognize problems and test solutions to them.

Arts – Fostering creativity and allowing children to illustrate concepts they are learning.

Mathematics – Helping children explore numbers, but also patterns, shapes, organizational skills and much more.

There are many reasons to teach STEAM in preschool. STEAM skills are transferable across other subjects. Process skills, which include making observations, hypothesizing and critical thinking, are key components of STEAM. These skills help young children grasp math and science concepts early in life, but can also be applied to other subjects and more complex concepts later on. It’s also essential to engage children in STEAM subjects early on since they are becoming increasingly important in today’s world.

Confronting the Need to Recruit and Retain Talent in a Tight Labor Market

In a long cycle of dynamic economic growth, Pleasanton has one of the lowest unemployment rates in California during a time in which most economists agree that the state is at or near full employment. As of April 6, the latest data reveals that our community’s unadjusted unemployment rate of 2.8 percent stands well below the national unadjusted rate of 4.4 percent for the same period. While an exceptionally strong job market is an indicator of our vibrant local economy, it also means that businesses face new challenges in successfully attracting and retaining qualified professionals. In this human-resource strapped climate, employers must find innovative ways to remain competitive that extend well beyond offering a higher wage or salary. A strong investment in talent has become even more critical as jobs are created at a much faster rate than our current housing options can support and individuals find it necessary to relocate out of the area and/or endure extended commutes.

Although a robust benefits package with the usual offerings is often a vital component to recruiting top talent in the Tri-Valley, businesses that distinguish themselves among today’s employers also offer soft incentives instrumental in creating a positive and motivating workplace. As a full-service financial institution, UNCLE not only provides our staff with comprehensive medical insurance and employer-sponsored retirement plans including Defined Benefit and Defined Contribution plans, but we also excel at promoting a work/life balance, provide excellent training and support, and offer valuable opportunities for career advancement as well as enriching experiences in service to the larger community. In addition, we offer tuition reimbursement for ongoing education in core areas relevant to our industry and the career path of the individual employee.

Time and again, we’ve found that there is a vital link between engagement of employees and outstanding service. Moreover, employees find satisfaction and fulfillment in work when they are striving toward a shared purpose. If an organization can effectively connect this principle to non-wage forms of compensation, it has created a powerful combination for a thriving workplace culture that will attract and retain qualified individuals at all organizational levels. In our mission to support the financial well-being of our members, every employee at UNCLE is aware of the corporate goals of our organization – and benefits from an enterprise-wide bonus program when we achieve them. This strategy has enabled us to improve productivity as well as promote camaraderie and collaboration integral to our organizational health.

Finally, it is imperative that employers are diligent about putting mechanisms in place to obtain regular feedback from employees on their level of job satisfaction in order to reduce attrition and hire strong candidates regardless of current workforce shortages. Tools such as employee surveys conducted in partnership with outside firms have proven especially useful in providing our credit union with insight on how we are measuring up as an employer and areas in which we can improve. Ultimately, the solutions that work best for any given organization will provide clarity on how to address their employees’ unique concerns in a meaningful way.

Proposed Interpretive Pavilion at Shadow Cliffs

Gary and Nancy Harrington of the Harrington Art Partnership have been working with the East Bay Regional Park District to construct an interpretive pavilion at Shadow Cliffs Regional Park. As life-long educators and members of the Tri-Valley community, they have championed this project and advocated for its construction. Gary and Nancy have already donated $30,000 toward the design, and have pledged an additional $150,000 in matching support to see this anticipated structure crafted.

The pavilion will transform, what is now barren landscape, into a welcoming and inviting gateway encouraging visitors to explore the wild side of Shadow Cliffs. Once complete, the pavilion will be the finishing touch on a project that has been community-supported from the ground up. Shadow Cliffs is the site of a former quarry which became a public park in 1971, thanks to a donation from Kaiser Industries.

Shadow Cliffs is a very popular destination for Tri-Valley residents. It is located on Stanley Blvd., easily accessible by car, by bicycle, on foot, or by taking public transit. Naturalist programs at Shadow Cliffs are free to schools within Alameda and Contra Costa Counties, which are expected to be even more popular when the pavilion is complete.

The East Bay Regional Park Foundation is seeking support from the communities in the Tri-Valley. Donors who contribute over $1,000 will have their names listed on a donor exhibit at the pavilion. Individuals or corporations can sponsor an exhibit or give to the overall construction of the project. Anyone interested in contributing to the Shadow Cliffs Interpretive Pavilion should contact Juliana Schirmer at 510-544-2212, or jschirmer@ebparks.org. Checks may be sent to East Bay Regional Park Foundation, P.O. Box 21074, Crestmont Station, Oakland, CA 94620.

Architectural concept drawings of the proposed interpretive pavilion show a welcoming and inviting gateway, encouraging visitors to explore the wild side of Shadow Cliffs. Final design is subject to change.

Graham-Hitch Mortuary
“Serving Our Community with Quality, Dignity and Value”

Graham-Hitch Mortuary in Pleasanton has provided “a dignified and considerate service to Amador Valley since 1891.” Compassionate, thoughtful, and helpful, Graham-Hitch Mortuary has been providing funeral services to trusting families in the Tri-Valley and the East Bay for over 127 years.

First owned and operated by A.F. Schweer and Mr. Geo W. Detjens, the mortuary that we know and respect today was housed in several locations within Pleasanton – the first on the corner of Railroad Avenue and Division Street. The mortuary was also, at one time, located on Main Street.

Mr. Charles Graham, who had married the daughter of Mr. Detjens, assumed the business just before 1905. The “business” was then named Graham Mortuary, and Mr. Graham became one of the first licensed morticians in California. He learned the trade by taking classes in Oakland to obtain the California Embalmers License #15 in 1906.

Mr. Ralph Hitch, originally hailing from Nebraska, came to California in 1938. He convinced his lady love, Bonita Butler, to move to Stockton, where he had settled, and they married in 1939. With a mortician’s license from Nebraska only, Ralph attended San Francisco College of Mortuary Science to be licensed in California.

Ralph, upon hearing that the Graham Mortuary was for sale in Pleasanton, vied with others for the coveted ownership. Ralph Hitch was chosen as the new owner of the mortuary. Wanting Pleasanton residents to think that Charles Graham had merely assumed a partner, Mr. Hitch named his new business, Graham & Hitch Mortuary. Mr. Graham was involved on a limited basis.

Ralph and his wife became very involved in the community. Ralph joined the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce and was active in the Lion’s Club and St. Augustine’s Church.

In 1954, Mr. Hitch constructed a more contemporary mortuary on St. John Street. He sold the business to the owners of the Jess C. Spencer Mortuary, in Castro Valley, in 1972. Randy Friesen joined the firm as President in 1990, and retired in 2005. The building on St. John Street cared for Pleasanton’s funeral needs until 1992, when the current location for Graham-Hitch Mortuary, at 4167 First Street, was constructed and remains today. Along the way, the name changed to Graham-Hitch, exchanging the ampersand for a hyphen.

Wes Fisher, current on-site Owner and President, along with his considerate care providers offer burial, cremation, and varied amenities, including grief support to families upon the death of a loved one. Today, Graham-Hitch is a lovely building located near the heart of downtown Pleasanton.

Deanna Moser, a licensed funeral director since 2005, has extensive experience in advanced funeral planning. A former flight attendant with American Airlines, she serves as the Director of Advanced Planning for Graham-Hitch Mortuary.

Wesley “Wes” Fisher, President of Graham-Hitch Mortuaries located in Pleasanton and Danville, is a licensed funeral director with over 35 years’ experience. He is a licensed crematory manager with extensive experience in crematory operations.

Pleasanton Military Families has recently lost two sources of income for their care package program for deployed troops. They spend at least $12,000 per year on postage alone for the care package program.

8th Annual Hometown Pancake Breakfast and Troop Packout on June 2

Coffee, bagels, pancakes, sausage and more will be served at Pancakes in the Park, a fundraising breakfast hosted by several veterans service organizations as well as community service organizations on Saturday, June 2 at Delucchi Park in downtown Pleasanton. The event is scheduled from 7:30 a.m. to 11:00 a.m.

Pleasanton Military Families, American Legion Post 257 and VFW Post 6298 are teaming up with a handful of local service organizations to serve breakfast for a donation that will directly support the Pleasanton Military Families Care Package Program.

Following the breakfast, the group will move down to the Veterans Hall to pack boxes for the troops at 12 noon. All are welcome to participate in packing.

With the end of First Wednesdays and the expected end of Cycling for Veterans bike ride, Pleasanton Military Families has lost two sources of income for their care package program for deployed troops. They spend at least $12,000 per year on postage alone for the care package program.

Pleasanton Military Families is a support group for family and friends of our local military men and women. Founded in 2003, at the beginning of the Global War on Terror, there was a need for an outlet to talk about our children, husbands, wives, and friends fighting this war. They survived on compassion and support from each other and their friendships grew and have continued to deepen. New members are welcome to join at any time.

Many of the troops have been sent back for the second or third deployment and it doesn’t get any easier – although communication from the front has definitely improved. Pleasanton Military Families meets once a month, the second Tuesday at 7:00 p.m. For further information, please email pmfsn.ca@gmail.com.

Conscious Uncoupling: Turn your pain into power

“Contrary to popular belief, time does not heal all wounds. We do.” This is a quote from Katherine Woodward Thomas, author of the NY Times bestseller Conscious Uncoupling: 5 Steps to Living Happily Even After. Conscious Uncoupling has evolved into today’s most celebrated, breakthrough approach to healthy break-ups. The simple 5-Step program has helped thousands of couples (including celebrities such as Gwyneth Paltrow and Chris Martin) part on positive terms and transform their pain into personal power and growth.

Kimberly Koste coaching helps couples break up peacefully using the Conscious Uncoupling process. There is absolutely hope on the other side of divorce and Kimberly helps people create something beautiful out of something that can be so painful. The family form can change, but not end up broken.

Her larger mission is to keep families out of court rooms altogether, which can not only save them tens of thousands of dollars on lawyers and other court costs, but also the emotional damage that too often happens to all family members of divorce.

“My clients and I come together as a team and go deep very quickly into what happened so that we know how to move forward,” says Kimberly. “People in breakup pain need relief so they can get back to living productive lives. We start with a 10-session package and often no more is needed.”

Kimberly always knew she wanted to help people feel better. And she inherited the unconscious blocks, freeing ourselves to be our best selves.

Formed in 2005 by Herb and Cathy Ritter with the purchase of their first vacation property in Tahoe City, they have since added a second property at Squaw Creek and a third property in Tempe, AZ. In addition to managing vacation rentals, Herb manages a family portfolio of single and multi-tenant commercial properties located in the Northwest.

Ritter Investments is managed exclusively and very successfully by the family. Relying on web-based promotion sites, Airbnb, Vacation Rentals by Owner (VRBO) and HomeAway to advertise, and utilizing local cleaning/maintenance vendors, Herb is able to remotely manage the properties with ease. Learn more at www.facebook.com/RitterVacationProperties.

Herb successfully grew the family commercial real estate holdings over the last 30 years and manages a number of Limited Liability Companies with assets located in Idaho, California, Oregon and Washington. Herb’s strategy of growing the LLC holdings by utilizing 1031 exchanges in the acquisition of properties with national and multi tenants has increased the value of the family’s investment portfolio significantly over the last 30 years. Ritter Investments, LLC, will be expanding its Commercial Property Management Services in the next few years under a new company called ONE COMMERCIAL Property Management Services.

Herb and Cathy have created a successful small business model that allows them great freedom and flexibility, which provides time for one of their passions – community service. Community service has always been very important to both Herb and Cathy and their business is an integral part of how they help with fundraising for local charities. Herb’s late father, an Eagle Scout and Rotarian, instilled in his son at an early age that success in business should always involve giving back to your community.

Herb, also an Eagle Scout and active Pleasanton North Rotarian, took his Dad’s advice to heart and he and Cathy engage in many community activities and organizations. Herb has served on the Parks and Recreation Commission, Trails Committee, and is now a Planning Commissioner. Herb was instrumental in helping the Foothill High School Athletic Boosters obtain approval for and coordinated the installation of a video scoreboard in 2012. Cathy grew up in Pleasanton and has been very active in the community, volunteering countless hours for Special Olympics, Tri-Valley Animal Rescue, Relay for Life, Lyndskien Elementary PTO, and the Taylor Family Foundation.

Herb and Cathy love supporting the community and have donated both time and vacation rental donations to countless local charities.

Following in Mom and Dad’s footsteps – daughter Tricia is pursuing a degree in Special Education and volunteers for many of the same organizations as Herb and Cathy, and son Jimmy is the Ritter family’s third generation Eagle Scout.
