

THE GAYMON LAW FIRM

The Gaymon Law Firm, PLLC helps resolve tax debt and other financial problems for clients in the Virginia, Maryland, and Washington D.C. metro areas. If you have substantial tax debts or other serious financial problems, they may be able to help.

They strive to fully understand your unique situation, so that they can recommend solutions tailored to best protect your interests.

They can then work with you to implement a plan that helps you recover financially, and thereafter offer specific counseling and recommendations to ensure your on-going financial health.

Paul Gaymon focuses his legal practice on representing individuals and businesses with tax debt and other financial problems.

Specifically, he represents consumer and business debtors in complex Chapter 7, 11 and 13 bankruptcies. Mr. Gaymon regularly appears before the United States Bankruptcy Court and interacts with the Internal Revenue Service, the Comptroller of Maryland, and the Virginia Department of Taxation on behalf of his clients.

Prior to representing persons and businesses with financial problems, Mr. Gaymon served as an Attorney-Advisor to the Assistant

Paul Gaymon

Secretary for Civil Rights at the United States Department of Education. In that capacity, Mr. Gaymon advised the Assistant Secretary and Deputy Assistant Secretary for Enforcement in connection with issues arising under Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act; Title VI and Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964; Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

A 2004 graduate of the Georgetown University Law Center, Paul has been an attorney since 2005. He is licensed and practices in Virginia, Maryland and Washington, D.C. as well as nationally before the Internal Revenue Service.

"For the past six years or so, my practice generally has focused on assisting clients with serious financial problems," Paul says, "with an emphasis on tax debt resolution. Accordingly, my practice areas include tax controversy and bankruptcy, as well as negotiated debt settlements and workouts," Gaymon said.
