

Message From the Chairman

CHARLES HILL
Chairman 2014-2015

January, the start of a new year always brings exciting promises of opportunities to come. This is particularly true at the Tyler Area Chamber of Commerce (TACC). New businesses are opening all over town. Residential development is strong. TISD will soon open several new buildings including the new Technology and Career Center. TJC is also making progress on the Energy Center and Health Science buildings. Texas College has broken ground on new dorms and student center and UT Tyler is making progress on a music building and the new pharmacy school. All of those projects are signs of the progressive strength of the Tyler economy.

2014 saw our friend Mark McDaniel take a new leadership role at the City of Dallas. The city council has named Mark's replacement and will welcome Edward Broussard to Tyler in February. We look forward to a continued partnership with Mayor Heines, the city council and city staff as we continue to support growth and entrepreneurship in our community.

January is also a time of renewed commitment and new starts. I hope that each of you renew your commitment to the TACC through our committee structure. We are a grass roots committee-led organization. Our committees are busy making plans for the Perryman Economic Outlook meeting, the Energy Summit and our East Texas Coalition trip to Austin to meet with our legislators. I hope each of you finds a place of service that will help you be a part of the growth of our great community .

There will be two new avenues of service in TACC for 2015. The first will be our new committee to address the needs of minority businesses. We are gathering names and will announce organizational meeting dates soon. The second new avenue of service will be our new entrepreneurship task force championed by Mayor Martin Heines. If you have a special interest in either of these initiatives please contact the Chamber offices for information.

There are so many places to serve in the TACC. Early morning Small Business breakfasts, noon committee meetings, afternoon ribbon cuttings or business after hours all provide so many ways to promote your business and help Tyler grow. I hope you will be a part of this exciting 2015 chamber year.
