

Penny Lehan, Lawyer at Coleman Fraser Whittome Lehan

Penny grew up in Sidney and is happy to be back on Vancouver Island after spending 34 years in Vancouver. She graduated from UBC Law, articulated with a large downtown firm, and then managed her own law practice for many years. In Vancouver, Penny built trusted, long-term relationships with clients, many of whom she continues to act for. Penny practices in Duncan in the areas of corporate and business law, real estate, mortgages, wills and estates. She enjoys acting for many well-established local businesses, individuals and community groups. Her interests include rowing, hiking, boating and local food and wine production. Penny sits on the Boards of the Cowichan Valley Film Society, Maple Bay Rowing Club and the local Slow Food chapter.
