Middlesex County Chamber of Commerce hosts Hiring, Discipline and Firing: Employment Best Practices as part of KeyBank Workshop Series

(Middletown, CT). Don DeVivo, Chairman of the Middlesex County Chamber of Commerce, announced that the Chamber will host a KeyBank Workshop on Hiring, Discipline and Firing: Employment Best Practices on Tuesday, March 10, 2020 at 8 a.m. and will last until 10:00 a.m. The training session will take place at the Middlesex County Chamber of Commerce, 393 Main Street, Middletown, CT.

Presented by Robert Hinton of Pullman and Comley, the workshop, “Hiring, Discipline and Firing: Employment Best Practices” will focus on helping small business owners, HR personnel and managers understand the legal issues presented by modern hiring and firing decisions, and present practical steps employers can take to minimize litigation risk.

Specific topics covered will include: Employment background checks and due diligence, Drug testing and medical inquiries, Application and interview process, Fraudulent employment and/or educational references, When to discipline and when to fire, Effective preparation for termination and conducting terminations, and Most common pitfalls and employer best practices.

Protect your business and minimize litigation risk by registering today! Visit <https://www.middlesexchamber.com/> to register or call 860-347-6924. Registration cost for Chamber members is $30 and for Non-members $40.

Established in 1895, the Middlesex County Chamber of Commerce is the largest Chamber in the state.
