Middlesex County Chamber of Commerce’s Upcoming Webinars and Workshops

(Middletown, CT.) Chairman Don DeVivo of the Middlesex County Chamber of Commerce announced the Middlesex County Chamber of Commerce continues to connect business owners from around the county with information and resources in preparation for business recovery.

Entering the month of May, the Chamber calendar is full of great opportunities for members to participate in exciting new business workshops and town hall discussions via an online platform.

The fifth installment of Tuesday Tips titled, “Strategies for Landlords and Tenant Law” will be hosted on May 5th at 2:00 p.m. This workshop will be presented by Pullman & Comley and will feature Retired Judge Robert Holzberg as moderator and the panelists will include Real Estate Attorney Geoff Fay, Financial Restructuring Attorney Jonathan A. Kaplan, and Property Tax and Valuation Attorney Laura Cardillo. Discussion will be focused on preparing landlords, tenants and bank lenders and highlighting the key challenges they face during this time, as well as how to begin planning for the future.

MEWS+ will present a webinar on May 7th at noon titled, “I’m a Business Owner – Can I Ever Retire?” Ann Pellegrini, Chartered Retirement Planning Counselor, will lead an interactive discussion on the retirement plans available for small businesses, considerations needed when you have employees, and the 10 rules every business owner should know to move toward his or her long-term financial goals.

Also, on May 7th at 12:30 p.m. we will be hosting a Town Hall discussion featuring Mark Hayward, District Director of the Connecticut and Rhode Island SBA offices to update members on the recent PPP and EIDL loans along with other funding streams through SBA.

This month’s KeyBank workshop will be held on May 12th at 8:00 a.m., titled, “Strategic Planning Demystified” presented by Jim Jackson, Business Counselor, CT Small Business Development Center. Jim will break down strategic planning into clear and concise steps that will lead to focused progress and predictable outcomes that any size organization can achieve.

Chamber President, Larry McHugh noted, “We continue to appreciate the support of many of our business leaders, who have been right there with us as we transition from hosting in person meetings and workshops, to now hosting virtual webinars and workshops.”
