Why the Chamber is good for your business

The concept of a Chamber of Commerce as a wholly volunteer institution in the United States is eight years older than the Declaration of Independence. The New York State Chamber of Commerce, the first in America, was organized in 1768. After more than 200 years, the Chamber concept has grown from a single purpose federation of traders to a broad community and business development association—believing that when men and women work unselfishly on programs they have in common, progress is the result. Today the Chamber assists local businesses and government with planning, manpower, expertise and special areas of requests, bringing together all aspects of the community.
