Anaheim Business Awards Winners Lauded During Luncheon Presented by Anaheim Chamber of Commerce

ANAHEIM, CA – The Anaheim Business Awards Luncheon presented by the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce, in partnership with the City of Anaheim, took place on February 13, 2020 at the Hilton Anaheim. With more than 300 guests in attendance, the event was one of celebration, recognizing 16 distinguished businesses that exemplify the spirit of enterprise while also contributing to the community’s greater good.

Businesses range from operating for more than 100 years to opening within the last two years and represent close to 2,300 jobs in Anaheim. These 16 organizations serve as pillars of professionalism and industriousness. During the awards ceremony, video presentations were shown highlighting each company.

In attendance were Anaheim Mayor Harry Sidhu, Mayor Pro Tem Stephen Faessel, Council Members Lucille Kring, Trevor O’Neil and Jordan Brandman. Honorees also received recognitions from the offices of Congresswoman Katie Porter, Congressman Lou Correa, Senator Ling Ling Chang, Senator John Moorlach, Assemblywoman Sharon Quirk-Silva, Assemblyman Steven Choi and Orange County Supervisor Doug Chaffee.

Mayor Harry Sidhu spoke about the great partnership that exists between the business community and the city of Anaheim. “The businesses being honored, whether large or small, new or in business for decades, share a very special connection to our residents,” said Sidhu. “Anaheim residents and businesses know that their successes are tied to each other. Each thrives when the other does. Those being honored help us serve our residents through the revenue they generate and the services they provide. We are working together to support the economy of Anaheim.”
