Greater Augusta Regional Chamber of Commerce to Host 3rd Annual Pig Pickin' & Politickin'

Fishersville, September 12, 2019 - This November election is going to be one for the record books and the Greater Augusta Regional Chamber of Commerce is helping the Community get up-close access to the candidates at their third annual Pig Pickin' & Politickin'!

On September 24th, from 5:30pm - 7:00pm, at the Club at Ironwood, the community will get a chance to mix, mingle, and get to know your elected officials and candidates for office! This is an opportunity to discuss issues face to face with incumbents and those seeking election. Don't miss this unique networking event with music, great barbecue and LOTS of handshaking!

"As a Chamber, we work to further the interests of local businesses and to help make connections in our community. This is a networking event like no other, and we couldn't be more excited to bring our community together to meet and greet the leaders who serve - all with good food and fun", said Aimee Rose, Board Chair for the Chamber.

Don't miss this one of a kind event. For more information contact the Chamber office at 540-324-1133 or register online at on our website.
