EDITORIAL MISSION

The Woodlands Area Chamber of Commerce is proud to produce the area's premier business publication – Business Today magazine. Business Today is a glossy, high-color, high-impact monthly business publication with 32 pages dedicated to the area's business news, political landscape, events and networking opportunities.

Your company represents numerous clients in The Woodlands area and beyond who would have a vested interest in reaching and communicating with the more than 1,500 businesses we represent in the private, education, nonprofit, manufacturing, entrepreneurial and government sectors. As a publication that reaches more than 10,000 Chamber members and area decision makers, Business Today is a valuable asset to your business plan and marketing strategies.

CIRCULATION & DEMOGRAPHICS

Business Today is distributed monthly to the entire Chamber membership of more than 1,500 small, medium and large businesses in the Greater Houston area. Members receive the publication as both a mailed hard-copy, as well as in an emailed digital format. An additional 2,000 hard copies are distributed to newcomers through Lone Star Greeting Service and Chamber Relocation and Visitor Packets. Current issues are also available at every Chamber event, in The Chamber's frequently visited lobby and conference rooms, as well as many popular businesses in the area, further increasing its circulation throughout the community.

Business Today has a readership that is mostly college educated and employed or have started their own business. They have disposable income and own their own cars and homes. Many serve as the final decision makers for their families' fiscal choices. These are the members that your business is trying to reach.

WHY ADVERTISE IN BUSINESS TODAY?

Every issue of Business Today serves as a valuable resource for the business professional in The Woodlands area. We pack every page of Business Today with the valuable content that business professionals, both new and veteran alike, need and desire to read.

Business Today has remained a consistent, solid performer for Chamber members looking to develop a broader customer base in the business community. Many of our members have told us that Business Today is one of the most effective communication tools they utilize for delivering a targeted message to business and community decision makers in the greater Houston region. Business Today works for your business as a brand awareness and customer engagement tool.
