Local Young Entrepreneurs Hold Business Trade Show

Lubbock, Texas — Local middle and high school students from the Lubbock Chamber Young Entrepreneurs Academy (YEA!) class of 2018 will reveal 14 new start-up businesses to the public. The students will showcase and sell their products and services at the YEA! Trade Show on Sat. May 19, from 10 a.m. – 1 p.m. at the South Plains Mall Grand Court.

The presentation is a culmination of 30 weeks of hard work, resulting in the graduates owning and operating their own businesses.

YEA! students are taught by local entrepreneurs and are introduced to guest lecturers, successful entrepreneurs, and business mentors. They brainstorm ideas, write business plans then launch their own company or social movement. YEA!'s academic year runs from October to May, with classes meeting every Tuesday from 4:30 – 7:30 p.m.

The YEA! program presented by Lubbock Economic Development Alliance (LEDA) is now accepting applications for the 2018-2019 class. Visit www.LubbockChamber.com/YEA to learn more and apply. Early applications are given priority consideration and class size is limited.

The Young Entrepreneurs Academy

The Young Entrepreneurs Academy (YEA!) is a 501(C) 3 offering groundbreaking year-long classes that teach middle and high school students how to start and run their own businesses. Throughout the class, students develop business ideas, write business plans, conduct market research, pitch their plans to a panel of investors for startup funds, and launch and run their own, fully formed companies and social movements. The project-based program empowers students to take charge of their futures.

Founded in 2004 at the University of Rochester with support from the Kauffman Foundation, YEA! today serves thousands of students nationwide. In 2011, the United States Chamber of Commerce Foundation became a national sponsor and partner of the Academy to help celebrate the spirit of enterprise among today's youth and tomorrow's future leaders.

YEA! bridges the business and educational communities to fulfill its mission of teaching more students how to make a job, not just take a job. YEA! is made possible by The Kauffman Foundation, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce Foundation and the E. Philip Saunders Foundation. For more information, visit yeausa.org.

Texas Tech Innovation Hub

The Texas Tech University Innovation Hub at Research Park (the Hub) opened in 2015 to assist in the formation of startup companies relevant to today's local, regional and global economy. Texas Tech is experimenting with new approaches to economic and sustainable development focusing on commercializing and translating research, creating and growing jobs and developing a complete entrepreneurial eco-system with its community, state, and federal partners. Intended as the first of a series of facilities, the Hub, a 40,000 square foot state of the art platinum LEED building equipped with office and wet laboratory facilities is home to robust programs to advance the impact of the region's economic development efforts. The Hub programs support faculty, students, and local entrepreneurs in early and growth stage companies.
