Re: Learn to Supervise People and Lead a Team with Glen Shepard

LUBBOCK, Texas – The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce is partnering with Glenn Shepard Seminars to provide Lubbock businesses an opportunity take part in a special training event. The half-day seminar, How to Supervise People and Lead a Team, based on one of his six best-selling books, How to Manage Problem Employees, will be held on Thurs., Dec. 6 from 8:30 a.m. – 3 p.m. at Standard Sales, 408 E. Hunter.

Every organization has dealt with employees who couldn't seem to get their attitudes or performance up to speed, and this type of performance problem can quickly bring an office or department to a grinding halt. In Shepard's 20 years as a business owner and writer, he has developed a set of strategies for dealing with problem employees that have been proven effective through wide experience. At the conclusion of the seminar, participants will have the tools needed to correct situations that are salvageable, and the ability to fire without fear when they are not.

Executives all over the country have paid as much as $1,295 to attend Shepard's presentations. Due to his relationship with the Lubbock Chamber, members receive a discounted rate of $199 per person; non-chamber member tuition is $249. Also, when three or more enroll, the fourth person attends for free. Along with an enlightening, entertaining presentation, each attendee will receive a workbook with key points for permanent reference.

This seminar has been approved by the Society of Human Resource Management, HRCI and Texas Funeral Service Commission and eligible participants may receive CEU credit. Registration will be from 8 – 8:30 a.m. and participants will break for lunch from 11:30 a.m. – 12:30 p.m. Reserve your seat online at LubbockChamber.com, call the Lubbock Chamber office at (806) 761-7000, or email allison.cottrell@lubbockbiz.org.
