Re: Leadership of the Texas Tech University System to Speak at Lubbock Chamber Luncheon

LUBBOCK, Texas – The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce will host the State of the Texas Tech University System Luncheon on Thurs., Sept. 17. The event, presented by AimBank, will be held both virtually and in-person at 11:30 a.m. inside the Overton Hotel & Conference Center.

Leadership of the TTU System, including Tedd L. Mitchell, M.D., chancellor of the Texas Tech University System, Lawrence Schovanec, Ph.D., president of Texas Tech University, and Lori Rice-Spearman, Ph.D., president of Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center, will provide the latest updates and information for the TTU System and for their respective universities.

Topics of discussion will include, the universities COVID-19 plans and updates on the results of returning to campus, vision for the future, upcoming legislative session priorities and information about the potential partnership of Midwestern State University joining the TTU System.

“The State of the Texas Tech University System luncheon is a great opportunity for our leaders to share our latest initiatives, exciting things going on around campus and plans for our universities heading into the academic year with our loyal supporters and community members,” said Tedd L. Mitchell, M.D., chancellor of the TTU System. “We appreciate everything the Lubbock Chamber and its hard-working folks do in preparation for this event, and especially this year making our conversation available to anyone who would like to join us in-person or virtually.”

In-person tickets are $45, and Chamber members receive a discounted price of $35. Virtual tickets are also available for $25, and Chamber members receive a discounted price of $15. Reservations may be made on www.LubbockChamber.com or by calling the Lubbock Chamber office at (806) 761-7000. The registration deadline is 5 p.m. on Sept. 10.

Sponsorships and tables are still available. Contact Kyle Jacobson at Kyle.Jacobson@lubbockbiz.org to learn more.
