

COVID-19 AND THE RETURN TO THE WORKPLACE – KPMG SURVEY

A new KPMG Canada survey indicates 54 per cent of Canadians are afraid to return to the workplace due to the contagious nature of the COVID-19 virus.

Ontarians and British Columbians are the most fearful of returning, at 64 per cent and 60 per cent, respectively.

Source: KPMG Canada

KPMG has also launched its Workforce Safeguarding App aimed at helping companies reopen their physical workplace safely during the pandemic.
