Welcome to Weyauwega!

The Weyauwega Area Chamber is comprised of business that encompass the City of Weyauwega, towns of Weyauwega, Lind, Royalton, and communities of Baldwin’s Mill, Gill’s Landing, Evanswood and West Bloomfield. The city of Weyauwega is located in scenic central Wisconsin on the historic Yellowstone trail. The city is commonly referred to as “Wega” by local residents. The name “Weyauwega” (/waˈjuːwɛɡə/ wy-ew-EE-ga) means “Here we rest” because the town’s origin was a stopping/resting point between two rivers when Indians had to portage their canoes. All part of Waupaca county, The area has much to offer its residents and visitors. Excellent educational facilities, beautiful natural features, and access to big-city amenities are a few reasons that residents are proud to call the area home.

The area now known as Weyauwega began as a Menominee settlement around white lake. In mid-nineteenth century, Henry Tourteloytte founded Weyauwega, establishing several of the first homes and buildings. Soon after, the Wisconsin Central railroad ran through the city, and a rye mill, the largest in the world at the time, was built in 1855. Over the years, Weyauwega experienced continued growth, and it was officially incorporated as a city in 1939.

Only thirty miles from the Fox Cities and Stevens point, residents have access to all the amenities of a big city. Weyauwega itself has much to offer, the natural features and well-maintained parks of the area allow plenty of opportunities for outdoor recreation. Whether visiting the Weyauwega Swim Lake or exploring trails, residents can find plenty of ways to stay active and enjoy nature.

With all it has to offer, it’s easy to see why residents love to call Weyauwega area home. We hope this edition of the Weyauwega Chamber book captures the community’s unique features. Included is a directory of resources and businesses that can help make your stay with us a pleasant one, regardless if you are staying for a short visit, or making Weyauwega your home.

Thank you for visiting!

The Weyauwega Arts Organization
At the Gerold Opera House

Wega Arts is proud to have been part of the community since 2007. Bringing the empty Gerold Opera House back to life meant a lot to people. We have heard a lot of memories. Using our experience with theater, improvisation, and film, we have focused on bringing the joyous experience of creating new material to the table.

‘Getting to the Bottom of Lake Weyauwega’ was a lot of fun to make, not least of all when Algae Man showed up and scared everybody. That was in 2008. In 2016 we made ‘Heroes Rising’, with superheroes fighting the opioid epidemic. In 2018 we did the workshop ‘Jump Up & Shout’, and made a short film record of it. Each of these included area kids learning about theater, film, and the theme of the project.

One of our favorite things is new musicals. We really want everyone to think about the fact that we can make brand new musicals and films right here in Weyauwega. That’s why our slogan is ‘Wega to Broadway’.

We just finished our eighth Weyauwega International Film Festival. For four days and evenings, people came to see a selection of independent films from around the world, and several from Wisconsin. The audience enjoyed food from the Wega Bistro (our in-house restaurant), prizes, questions and answers with some of the filmmakers, who came from Japan, Brooklyn, Texas, and all parts of Wisconsin.

We hope to see you in 2019. Please like us on Facebook (Wega Arts), and go to wegaarts.org to sign up for the occasional email blast.

1861 a little country schoolhouse was built just west of Weyauwega to accommodate the educational needs of children in the area. School districts changed. This school was no longer needed. After a time of remaining empty, a group of citizens and local organizations decided to move it to the new Community Park (just off Highway 10). It was maintained and kept open by teachers and other volunteers during weather-friendly months. Time took its toll as it does on all buildings. In the spring of 2018, a major overhaul was done inside and out to the the Little Red Schoolhouse, in a fashion to keep it as close as possible to original. A re-dedication was celebrated, and the "new-old" museum was again "open for business". Weyauwega Area Historical Society is proud to offer this historical adventure to all visitors with free admission. To continue its maintenance, a donation is appreciated.

Please plan to visit the Little Red Schoolhouse any Sunday from June - September from 1-4 p.m., or by calling 715-281-6310 for a special appointment. Bring your children/grandchildren/friends to enjoy an era that they have not been familiar with. OR, adults who would like to recall some of their memories!
Weyauwega Lake

Weyauwega Lake is a recreation destination for kayakers and fishermen in the Waupaca County area. The lake boasts three kayak launch areas, two boat landings and two fishing piers. The lake is navigable to kayaks both up and down the Waupaca River. The beauty of the shoreline around the lake and on the river is a must. Filled with birds and wildlife that is sure to entertain. The lakewater is incredibly clear making it possible to visualize the lake bottom as you float by.

Fishing on the lake has never been better. The lake is stocked with Northern, Bass, Bluegill, Pumpkinseed, and a volunteer population of Trout. Kids and adults alike have spent many happy hours finishing for their dinner at the lake.

Each winter a Fisheree is held to encourage young anglers. The lake is a popular icefishing destination so there is an abundance of seasoned fishermen to teach the kids the secrets of landing the “Big One”. Weyauwega lake is maintained by the nonprofit group Weyauwega Lake restoration Inc.

2019 I WEYAUWEGA VISITORS GUIDE
Agropur is a Canadian cooperative that owns and operates the former Trega Foods' Weyauwega cheese plant. Headquartered in Montreal, Quebec, Agropur has solidified its place in recent years as one of the 20 largest dairy product manufacturers in the world. With 8,300 employees across North America, Agropur celebrated its 80th anniversary in 2018.

The Weyauwega plant (formerly Weyauwega Milk Products, and more recently Trega Foods) is a leading manufacturer of award winning cheddar and feta cheeses. In fact, the Weyauwega facility is the largest manufacturer of feta in the entire country! Though you will not see a specific Agropur brand at your favorite local grocery store in the United States, the Agropur Weyauwega plant manufactures many of the brand name cheddar and feta cheeses that families have been enjoying for decades. Total cheese output for the Weyauwega plant topped 130 million pounds of cheese last year, which was distributed and enjoyed throughout the United States and abroad.

The Agropur Weyauwega management team welcomes you to drop by our front office, and purchase some of our award-winning cheeses to enjoy with your family and friends.

WELCOME TO QUANTUM DAIRY!

This dairy farm located on Buchholtz road southwest of Weyauwega was homesteaded by the Buchholtz family in 1890. By 2002, after it had grown to a 500 cow dairy yet was scheduled to be turned into a housing development, Richard and Kathy Wagner made the investment to instead expand the dairy.

This saved a valuable business for our local economy. Just as important, this operating dairy farm saved the open nature of the land around the dairy for future generations of people and animals alike to benefit from the fields and forests that are part of the magic of Wisconsin’s rural countryside.

Quantum Dairy has 42 employees and is a nontraditional family farm, that is, larger than those dairies that have colored our past, yet still existing with two families at the heart of ownership and management.

The milking herd is made up of 2400 milking and 300 dry cows on site. An additional 2000 young stock are being reared offsite. The business manages a cropping operation on 3500 acres of land and purchases feed from an additional 1000 acres. 1460 truck-loads of milk per year are produced for the Agropur cheese plant in Weyauwega.

In order to remain sustainable, Quantum Dairy has cultivated future generations of family members and transitioned ownership and management responsibilities to them.

We are also early adopters of new technology and farming practices while gradually growing in size in order to compete in our changing industry.

Cropping and nutrient management are handled with the help of industry experts as we exist with zero discharge limits. Your contact is welcomed at 715-281-7032.

2019 I WEYAUWEGA VISITORS GUIDE
Several years ago, while on vacation Greg and Leah made a visit to the Henry Ford (formerly the Henry Ford Museum) in Michigan which inspired Greg to follow a dream he felt passionate about. When you walk through the doors of Greg's Speed Shop you realize they opened more than a new business. You are immediately transported to another time. He and his wife have created a museum, clothing shop, diner area and a garage to service cars from 1972 and older. Greg wants everyone to feel welcome and help enthusiast like himself restore, repair and enhance the cars they own or want to own. The two-story dress shop allows the ladies to shop vintage clothing and pin-up girl accessories.

When you visit, tour and hear Greg's vision you will be awed. The experience is truly remarkable! You will want to visit often to take it all in and see the updates. The plan is to build a 1940s/1950s village on the 80 acres of land behind the shop. There aren't enough words to describe all a visit has to offer. No matter your age, there is something for everyone to see, experience, reminisce and learn about car culture and facts. To hear the whole story stop by and get the "official tour" from Greg.

Open 7 days a week 9am to 5pm.
