TWO-PART SERIES

April 2 (Part 1) & June 4 (Part 2)
8:00-11:00 am

Promoting, encouraging, and providing resources for businesses to increase the likelihood of their survival in a disaster and the ability to get their business up and running and re-engaged in commerce. Cities, families, and communities at large are dependent upon resilient commerce.

To save lives and businesses, ChamberWest will partner with the Utah Department of Public Safety, Division of Emergency Management to provide a forum to share essential business resiliency information and practical training in a two-part series.

- Part 1 will include classroom training of the 12 Point Program to Business Continuity Planning as part of Be Ready Business, a program applauded nationally.
- Part 2 is an interactive troubleshooting discussion offered by experts to debug stuck or delayed programs and to get them moving again. We will also be introducing a unique business response strategy called Families First.

Logan Sisam, Be Ready Business Program Manager

Linda Milne, ChamberWest's Emergency Preparedness Expert
