

Board Director

Mr. Jamie C. Hsu, Ph.D.
Professor, Management and Engineering
Lawrence Technology University

Education:

B. S. in Civil Engineering, National Taiwan University
M. S. in Solid Mechanics, Brown University
Ph.D. in Solid Mechanics, Brown University
Executive Training Programs: Wharton, MIT, UM

Experience:

Executive Director, GM Global Technology Management
Executive Director, GM R&D Center
Executive Director, GM Advanced Manufacturing Technology Center
Manager of various GM advanced manufacturing departments

Present Position:

Professor of Management and Engineering, Lawrence Technological University
Consultant on Strategic Management, Effective Leadership, Organizational Development, and Technology Development

Selected Publications and Patents

Author and speaker of numerous topics related to strategic planning, career development, technology planning and implementation, automotive engineering, general management, globalization, and leadership.

Social Activities and Honors:

- Chair, SAE Emerging Technologies Advisory Board (ETAB)
- Editorial Board Member, Int'l Journal of Automotive Technology and Management
- Board Member, NRC Board on Manufacturing and Engineering Design
- MIT Leaders for Manufacturing Program Steering Committee
- President, Detroit Chinese Engineers Association
- Member of 2004 SATEC committee
- Advisors of various automotive companies and institutes in China and Taiwan
- Senior Advisor, China Institute of Machinery and Heavy Equipment