Each year, Boardman hosts several events that bring the community together. Two events start off the spring season. In March, the Boardman Distinguished Citizens Awards Banquet honors individuals and businesses who selflessly serve the community. The Ryan Neal Memorial Scholarship Golf Tournament is held the first Saturday in April and raises thousands of dollars for graduating seniors at Riverside High School. Scholarships are awarded in May.

The Boardman 4th of July Celebration is an all-day, family-friendly event co-organized by the Boardman Chamber of Commerce and the Columbia Youth Soccer Club. The festivities include a parade, various contests, and vendors in the park. The evening culminates with a high-velocity fireworks show over the river that can be seen throughout Boardman!

In August, the entire Boardman community celebrates a Community Night Out, hosted by first responders. Free food and fun are available for everyone.

The Morrow County Harvest Festival is held the first Saturday in October at the SAGE Center and offers something for everyone. Kids participate in pumpkin painting, learn about animals and agriculture, and get their faces painted. Adults browse through local vendor booths and enjoy live music throughout the day.

Closing out the year is the annual Boardman Christmas Tree Lighting and the SAGE Center Light Show. Santa and Mrs. Claus light the Christmas tree and start the light show before moving inside to take photographs with the kiddos and their families. Hot cocoa and cookies are waiting inside. The SAGE Center Light Show runs through the month of December each night from dark until dawn. One of the best shows in the region, the lights are choreographed to popular Christmas songs.

We hope you join us at our next community event!

Neighboring communities also host annual festivals each year. There is the annual St. Patrick’s “Wee Bit O’ Ireland” Celebration during St. Patrick’s Day weekend in March and the Irrigon Watermelon Festival in July.

Heading east, the Columbia River Gorge shifts from forests into plains, from mossy trees into bare, rugged cliffs. Interstate 84 suddenly straightens, as if it’s paying close attention, guiding steadfast through a landscape of wide-open skies and yellow wheat fields fluttering in the wind. Meet your idyllic introduction to Eastern Oregon. Take exit 164 for Boardman to get better acquainted. Though small in population, Boardman is big in discovery. In just under two days, you can get your fill of local history — and fresh-brewed hops. Follow this 24-hour itinerary for a first-timer’s tour of this beloved city that is not quite off the beaten path but easy to explore.

10 A.M. SAGE CENTER

Your first stop is a true local gem: the SAGE Center, an interactive museum and visitor center that showcases the region’s Sustainable AGriculture and Energy. Here you will discover the unique industries that thrive in the Port of Morrow, from food processing to GPS farming technology to products that are shipped worldwide. Hop on the simulated hot air balloon experience, learn to drive a tractor, see how potatoes become curly fries and more.

The SAGE Center is also a Travel Oregon Welcome Center, where helpful travel advisors can answer all your Oregon road trip questions. You can also pick up free travel guides, farm loop maps and brochures. Afterwards feel free to peruse the gift shop for a special keepsake. No one will judge if you indulge in Oregon’s world-famous Tillamook ice cream.

12 P.M. LUNCH

From the SAGE Center, take Olson Drive north and take a right on Columbia Drive. Take it slow as you pass by some of the Port of Morrow’s big industries like the Oregon Potato and Lamb Weston Plants. After about a mile, just before the Port of Morrow blue water tower, take Ullman Boulevard north toward the river, with PGE on the right. As you drive over the overpass, you’re treated to an incredible view of the mighty Columbia River, where massive cranes are hard at work and barges are being loaded.

Take a left on Marine Drive to reach Burnt Field Brewing, located in Boardman’s original train depot. Try a specialty pizza for a blissful refueling — whether you’re in the mood for bacon-infused alfredo sauce (The Chase), sauerkraut (The German), fire-roasted poblano pepper base (15:10 to Yuma) or cheese steak (Halfway to Everywhere), to name a few. Come Monday through Friday for slice deals at lunchtime. And don’t forget the brewery’s signature beers, like the malt-forward Mile Marker 40 IPA.
6 P.M. DINNER/NIGHT CAP

No need to leave your cozy accommodations for dinner. The Two Barrels Taps & Grill is a centerpiece of the lodging property, with relaxing inside and outside dining overlooking the river. Indulge in American classics, like juicy burgers and steak grilled to perfection, and a large drink menu.

Ready for another taste of Boardman? Ordnance Brewing, owned and operated by a local farmer, has partnered with Two Barrels Taps & Grill to provide a large variety of their beers on tap. That means access to local flavors, like blueberries that are used in the Bloops blueberry wheat ale. The brewers credit the facility’s remoteness to their freedom to innovate — and you will be glad they do. Treat yourself to a Canopy Shaker juicy IPA, or if you are lucky, land a seasonal offering like their coffee porter or a white stout on nitro draft.

From your table, watch as the sunset illuminates the Columbia River in phenomenal pinks and oranges. Now that is something to cheers.

2 P.M. RIVER WALK

Time to work off that beer and pizza with a peaceful walk along the waterfront. Drive west on Marine Drive towards the Boardman Marina & RV Park, a popular destination for some 25,000 overnight guests every season. Pass the campground and park your car near the gazebo and boat ramp. From here, find 3 miles of paved trails tracing the park’s perimeter.

Stroll along the Port of Morrow Riverfront Center and the River Lodge & Cabins property, admiring sailboats on the brilliant blue waters. Where the trail ends at the beach at Marker 40 is a great spot with restrooms and shelters. During the heat of the summer, festive barbecue parties will be in full swing, showing a true sense of community.

As you walk back along the path, be sure to look up into the big tree at the east end of the River Lodge & Cabins. A resident bald eagle can be frequently seen (and heard) here.

4 P.M. CHECK-IN

By now you’re likely refreshed and ready to check in to your hotel or cabin. With a private beach and outdoor pool along the Columbia River, the River Lodge & Cabins feels like an oasis in the high desert. Its exterior resembles a remote mountain log cabin, while inside are 48 comfortable rooms filled with modern amenities and 9 spacious cabins ranging from studios to two bedrooms. Now might be the perfect time to soak up the sun with the soothing sounds of the Columbia.

8 A.M. BREAKFAST

Rise and shine with breakfast at Sunrise Café, where the day starts right with hefty pancakes, omelets, burritos and more. Use that morning fuel for another walk along the Columbia River.

Get your caffeine fix at any of our wonderful coffee shops, such as The Farmer’s Cup, Boardman Jump Start Java and Café Cultura.

For your 24th hour in Boardman, grab some lunch for here or to go at C&D Drive-In & Bakery, also home to Poppy’s Pizza. The signature Bozo burger is famous among locals (rightfully so), as are the yummy hand-dipped milkshakes.

As you get ready to gas up and go, reflect on your whirlwind tour of Boardman. Now you know where to spend a long pit stop on your next trip down I-84.

In the early 1800's, Captain Meriwether Lewis and William Clark passed by here on their way to the Pacific Ocean. Mountain men and fur trappers trudged through this area on their way to trade at the Hudson Bay post at Fort Vancouver.

In 1843, the first major wagon train on the Oregon Trail passed near here where they found water at Wells Springs, just 17.6 miles south of town.

In the 1880's, the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co., building east from Portland, completed a rail line along the south side of the Columbia River to Wallula, connecting with the Northern Pacific line.

In 1885, the organized Oregon-Washington Railway and Navigation Co. completed its crossing of the Blue Mountains to connect Union Pacific's Oregon Short Line at Farewell Bend on the Snake River. This was an important water and fuel stop for the steam engines in use at the time.

It was not until 1903 when Sam Boardman had a chance meeting with the visionary Dr. Nelson G. Blalock. Dr. Blalock, a Walla Walla pioneer and Civil War veteran, shared his dream of irrigating an island (aptly named Blalock Island) in the Columbia River with Sam. Sam was intrigued with the idea, since his railroad survey and engineering work gave him the technical knowledge to get the job done.

Sam Boardman and his wife, Anna, immediately took up homesteading near the original Boardman town site to begin work on Blalock Island. Lacking success with Blalock Island, Sam ultimately found work with the Oregon Highway Department. At the time, Oregon was pushing the Columbia River Highway from Portland east and Sam's civil engineering skills were put to good use.

Anna Boardman opened a school on their homestead with 6 to 8 students.

Around 1920, Sam visited the newest highways and turnpikes in the East and brought back the concept of highway waysides (the forerunner of modern day rest areas). One of the first two waysides in Oregon was built near Boardman and what remains of it can be seen as you exit I-84 at exit 164, near Main Street and SE Front Street.

The first commercial development in Boardman was mostly related to travelers on the Columbia River Highway - gas stations, motels and restaurants.

The City of Boardman moved again, entirely, in 1964 when Lake Umatilla behind the John Day Dam flooded the former site. The present day town site was divided by the relocated Union Pacific main line, the relocated highway (today designated interstate 84), and the BPA power lines serving McNary Dam.

By the 1970’s, Boardman became a city “on the way” and today is one of the state’s important industrial centers. Portland General Electric began construction of its coal-fired generation plant ten miles southwest of town and Boardman’s first French-fry plant was built. The small town of 300 quickly grew to more than 1,500.

Boardman’s population is approximately 4,300 with commercial businesses serving both visitors and local residents.
Boardman, Oregon is traditionally known as an agricultural processing center. Over 150,000 acres of irrigated fields and an extended growing season make the region an ideal place to grow, produce, and process a myriad of crops. A strong heritage in ranching and farming, visionary founding leaders, a prime location along major shipping corridors, and readily available infrastructure has nurtured Boardman's steady growth and diversity in industry.

The Port of Morrow is the heart of the agricultural manufacturing hub. It is the second largest port in Oregon and started in 1958 with a humble $500 loan. Today there are over 8,500 jobs supported by Port related industries and businesses and Morrow County boasts the 3rd highest average annual wage in Oregon.

Throughout the Port’s two main industrial parks at Boardman, businesses specializing in technology, transportation, logistics, and green energy have joined manufacturers creating products from locally grown potatoes, onions, dairy, mint, wheat, alfalfa, grass seed and wood chips. Transportation options by rail, water, and road facilitate efficient, worldwide shipping for companies.

In addition to agribusiness and Port industries, Boardman is very proud of its locally owned small businesses. Long-standing and new businesses are thriving in this growing community, from breweries and restaurants to groceries and gift-shops. The Business Incentive Grant Program through the Boardman Community Development Association helps local entrepreneurs expand, upgrade, or get started.

Think Big!

AWS Think Big Space

The AWS Think Big Space, located within the SAGE Center, is a first-of-its-kind experience for students in Eastern Oregon! This is an innovative space for students, teachers, and the community to create, imagine, and explore ideas through interactive hands-on technology. Funded by AWS, this new educational space will inspire students to cultivate STEM (science, technology, engineering, and math) related interests with labs that utilize cloud computing and AWS technologies.

Students and teachers are encouraged to THINK BIG as they explore problem solving using creativity and imagination. The AWS Think Big Space is an integrated environment, where everything from the furniture, technology, and curriculum work together to support interactive hands-on learning. The space prioritizes personalized learning to engage students of all ages, interests, and abilities.

This space was made possible through a partnership between Amazon Web Services, Morrow County School District, and the Port of Morrow. “We know students thrive when they have an environment that supports creative learning and innovation. We are grateful to have partners like AWS and The Port of Morrow who share the same vision. This is a great opportunity for Morrow County students,” said Dirk Dirksen, MCSD Superintendent.

Agribusiness has played a large role in Boardman’s history and continues to be a significant aspect of its economic environment. Our region is continually expanding with produce such as potatoes, onions, mint, dairy, and hay. Processing these products is a major business in the Port of Morrow.

The Port of Morrow has a wide array of industrial facilities located within its 7,000 acre site; 3,200 acres are irrigated. We have a large inland river terminal, as well as the main intermodal connection between rail and trucks. The Tidewater Terminal ships products such as potatoes, alfalfa, and solid waste from two cargo docks to ports all over the world.

Because Agribusiness is such an important and highly focused area of our region’s economic climate, Boardman features a 12-mile Agribusiness Loop Drive featuring over 50 active business sites. Tourists taking the 30 minute self-guided drive-by tour can view businesses such as the three large potato storage facilities at Lamb-Weston, the seasonal mint processing plant, on-site chipping at the Boardman Chip Co., the Columbia River Processing plant, and much more!

You can pick up information and a brochure at the Boardman Chamber of Commerce that will guide you while you take the Agribusiness tour.

In addition, the district recently installed an 18 hole disc golf course (sponsored by the Boardman Community Development Association).

On July 1st, 2017, the district opened a 43,000 square foot recreation center that includes an indoor pool, 2 basketball courts, an aerobics room, a multipurpose room, a rock climbing wall, and a weight room. The center provides swim lessons, kids programming, workout classes, parties, and day-use of the facility. The Boardman Park & Recreation District has a little something for everyone! Come enjoy all of our beautiful recreation opportunities.
MARKER 40 GOLF COURSE  A challenging 9-hole, quiet, country setting golf course. Equipment rental is available. Open six days a week. Reserve tee times by calling 541-481-4381.

BICYCLING  If you like the beauty of the countryside and a view of the Columbia River, hop on your bike and explore. Spring or early fall provide the best weather conditions. Camping facilities abound for long treks.

CAPTAIN AL JAMES  A feature of the Port of Morrow area is a full funnel stern tugboat built in 1939. It was designed for low draft and rapids navigation and was ideal for navigating the Columbia River. The Captain Al James was the first of her kind to ply the river’s waters and today the retired tugboat sits as a reminder of times past. For more information about the Capt. Al James, call the Port of Morrow at 541-481-7678.

UMATILLA NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE  The 23,555-acre National Wildlife Refuge is a great place for nature enthusiasts to catch a glimpse of migratory and resident waterfowl and other wildlife. The refuge is a varied mix of open water, slough, shallow marsh, riparian woodlands, seasonal wetlands, cropland, islands and shrub-steppe upland habitats. For more information visit www.fws.gov or call 509-545-8588.

FISHING AND HUNTING  With 72 miles of the Columbia River stretching from the John Day Dam, fishing opportunities for world-class walleye and bass fishing abound. Our area is also a bird hunter’s dream come true with pheasant, geese and ducks in abundance. The bird season runs from mid-October to late January. If you’re more interested in big game, Boardman and Morrow County have some of the best elk and deer hunting in October and November.

BIRD WATCHING  In the Umatilla Wildlife Refuge bring your camera as there are open wetlands, cropland, riparian woodlands, and desert shrub steppe that support a diverse wildlife community. It is a migration and wintering stop for thousands of birds in the Pacific Flyway. Wintering geese number nearly 30,000 and over 200,000 ducks, mostly mallards, make the refuge their winter home. There have been over 208 species of birds seen in the varied refuge habitats, including nesting eagles at the Boardman Marina Park.

Day Trips

NATIONAL SCENIC BYWAY  The Blue Mountain Scenic Byway offers a historical journey that crosses several National Forests and travels along many waterways. The mountains here appear blue in the distance and offer an expansive view of the pacific skyline. PENDLETON UNDERGROUND TOURS  Descend into Pendleton’s wild past through tunnels where Chinese laborers are said to have lived and business thrived while the west was being settled above ground. At one time, as many as 90 underground passageways, featuring bordellos and speakeasies, thrived below Pendleton streets. For more information call 541-276-0730

PENDLETON WOOLEN MILLS  Birthplace of Pendleton woolen products, visitors are welcome to tour the facility and browse through the sales room where you will find a wide variety of men’s and women’s clothing, blankets, pillows, fabric and more. For more information call 541-276-6911.
