Chamber's New Marketing Tools

The Chamber is hard at work on features and channels to best serve and communicate with our community and our members! Check out some of the exciting things I've been working on for you and feel free to contact me directly with your feedback.

SantaMaria.com Development

If you've searched for a local business, event or resource lately, chances are you've seen our re-vamped website. We have recently renovated our website: www.santamaria.com.

Our goal with this new website is to provide our visitors with a more user-friendly experience. All of the content has been restructured so that information is easier to find, navigate and read. Members can easily find access to login to their account at the top of each page. Social media icons are also there for easy access to interact with us. Individual pages incorporate social media functionality so that you may share content easily with others.

Another new, exciting feature is that we've now integrated online training courses. We have partnered with Coggnio to offer discounted courses on an assortment of topics from software to management. You can find these courses under Business Services in the Chamber section of the site.

This new version of our site is now mobile responsive. This means, the website will automatically adapt based on the size of the screen it is viewed on, changing the fit and layout to be easily readable on desktops, laptops and mobile phones.

I hope you find the new website easy to navigate and pleasing to browse. We are still updating some features and content, but I welcome your questions, comments and suggestions on the new site.

SantaMariaChamberNews.com eDigest

I am very excited to announce this new offering as well. Since we have converted our newsletter fully to digital, there was not an efficient way to push updates to our members – until

Marcy Maretta

A true win-win!

Check your inbox for regular editions of the Santa Maria Chamber News.com Digest. All current members are already on this list and should be receiving these emails already! If you're not currently on the list and would like to receive it, you may opt-in on our facebook page (fb.com/SMVCC) or by emailing us at chambernews@santamaria.com. Soon we will also be adding a member-to-member eblast as well so stay tuned for that!

Yet another exciting member feature we are proud to announce is the new MemberPlus App. Now members can stay connected with the Chamber on the go with this app. The app allows you to:

Congratulations to Hardy Diagnostics

As an employee owned company, Hardy Diagnostics was one of the honorees at the Family Business & Closely Held Company Awards at the Crowne Plaza in Ventura Beach, sponsored by the Pacific Coast Business Times. Hardy Diagnostics was nominated for this honor by the Economic Development Commission.

Hardy Diagnostics' ESOP (Employee Stock Ownership Program) has been in place for two and a half years. Jay Hardy, President of Hardy Diagnostics told the Pacific Coast Business Times that it stimulates retention since employees earn more shares by staying with the company. It also provides incentive since good work increase the share value.

A discussion of the value of the benefits of ESOP's (Employee Stock Ownership Program) will be provided at the Manufacturers Forum on March 24th at 7:30 a.m. at the Santa Maria Fairpark. Wayne Hamari, from J.W. Snipes Foundation will lead the discussion. It is part of the same program which will feature a presentation about the Santa Maria Valley Railroad.

Community-Focused Leadership Critical to Success of Business

By Glenn Morris, ACE, Chamber CEO

Success in any arena requires a supportive environment, one where the conditions maximize the chances for success. That lesson is obvious here as we look at the way particular crops flourish in the unique blend of soil, water, and weather available in our region.

The lesson holds true for businesses and communities in general. When the environment is right, businesses stand a better chance of succeeding. When businesses succeed, they provide jobs, pay taxes, support schools and non-profits, and generally create a community where families and individuals can thrive. A supportive business climate includes predictable and reasonable regulations, an educational system that excels in preparing individuals to succeed at work and in life, and a quality of life that attracts top talent to come and work.

None of these elements, however, just appear. Just like our ag partners invest significant time and resources in preparing the natural elements, communities must invest in preparing leaders who understand how to maximize the conditions for business and community success.

One of the ways Santa Maria has been investing in high quality leadership for the past twenty years is through the Leadership Santa Maria Valley program. Annually, 15-18 individuals commit to a rigorous eleven-month program designed to increase their understanding of local issues and solutions, expand their personal and professional networks, refine their leadership skills, and find ways to give back to their community. As the program celebrates its 20th anniversary this year, the alumni list of graduates will exceed 320 people. Graduates of the program include individuals who lead local businesses, serve on boards of local organizations, and in general provide the leadership muscle needed to make our community thrive.

Glenn Morris

Chamber Chief Executive Officer

Leadership Santa Maria Valley is designed to expand the community's civic leadership. Through an eleven-month program of monthly day-long workshops and seminars, participants engage in face-to-face discussions with experts and key decision-makers in areas of vital concern to the Santa Maria Valley. Spending time together in a small class atmosphere, individuals have an unprecedented opportunity to become aware of the current social and economic changes, and their impact on the Santa Maria Valley. It is also a prime opportunity to network and become acquainted with other existing and emerging community leaders.

Successful communities and businesses require strong leadership. If you are ready to be part of the solution and leadership of the community, we encourage you to join Leadership Santa Maria Valley! Applications for the 2015-2016 class will open in late March on the Chamber's website.

From the Economic Development Director:

Economic development work with the Chamber of Commerce continues on many fronts. These efforts include prospecting for new businesses, retention programs for existing businesses, factory tours, surveys, events designed to educate and enhance the marketing outreach of local businesses, and collaborating with agencies to provide training for our workforce.

- We welcome Rabobank, N.A., which is consolidating its services to Santa Maria and is underway for a spring, 2015 opening. The company is taking over the 60,000 square foot building vacated by the UPS call center over 4 years ago. The EDC provided an extensive relocation package to Rabobank for the building, also about 4 years ago, but the recession intervened. Through the efforts of Pacifica Commercial Realty, Rabobank was able to take another recent look at the property, saw that it was still vacant, and decided to act.
- The Business Confidence Survey has been completed, and the EDC is compiling this information in a report to be presented on March 18th at the Santa Maria Fairpark in the Fountain Pavilion. The report will include other current economic data, including labor statistics, retail sales information, unemployment numbers, and housing information to provide a "snapshot" of Santa Maria's local economy. After the presentation, the report will be made available on the Chamber's economic development website: www.santamariaedc.com.
- If you have not already done so, register for the Vandenberg Air Force Base Small Business Outreach Event on April 15th. This exciting program is from noon - 4pm and provides an opportunity for businesses to connect with Vandenberg and also, Vandenberg agencies will be at the event, seeing what businesses have to offer. This is a win-win for every business. You can register by going to www.santamariaedc.com, right on the home page.
- The Chamber continues its successful series of Manufacturers Factory Tours and Forums which raise awareness of local industry and are highly attended events.
- Congratulations to Mr. Luciano Santini and Jean Nicolas from the Employment Development Department. They put together a highly successful Veterans Academy which helps Veterans to polish their resume and brush up on job seeking skills. Ten of thirteen Veterans who attended the first academy were hired. That's a phenomenal success rate! The Chamber of Commerce is a sponsor for the next Veterans Academy, which begins on April 28th. We need employers to be involved on an Employers Panel. If interested, please contact Dave Cross at the Chamber of Commerce or Jean Nicolas at the EDD at (805) 614-1215.

All in all, it has been an exciting year so far, and the Chamber of Commerce is looking forward to more successes as the year continues.

If you would like more information regarding economic development work at the Chamber of Commerce, contact Dave Cross, Economic Development Director at edc@santamaria.com, or by calling (805) 925-2403 ext 817.
