

DR. ANGELYN M. ANDERSON

Consultant | Preservationist | Community Strategist

Dr. Angelyn M. Anderson serves as principal of Angelyn Anderson Consulting, a firm that specializes in engaging community residents in the process of historic and cultural preservation within their community. With over 20 years of experience in higher education, she has experience in leadership development, strategic management, process analysis and assessment, and policy development. Angelyn has also lectured on issues pertaining to urban and policy development and the effects of gentrification; as well as taught courses in African-American culture and its influence on the arts; social identity and the individual's role in society; and personal wellness.

Angelyn has served as a featured presenter and expert at events hosted by the Skokie Public Library, Loyola University Chicago, Seminary Consortium for Urban Pastoral Education (SCUPE), and Oakton Community College. She has provided commentary alongside members of Congress as a panelist for The Aspen Institute's What Every American Should Know – a program that addresses the common knowledge base that we as Americans “need to know to be aware, effective, and engaged citizens.”

In addition to being a mediator and trained conflict coach, Angelyn also has experience as a workshop facilitator and presenter and has facilitated workshops on advocacy and community organizing strategies.

She currently serves on the boards of Chicago Volunteer Doulas and the Vivian G. Harsh Society; is a volunteer at DuSable Museum of African-American History; and is a member of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Incorporated.

Angelyn is a graduate of Illinois State University and Loyola University Chicago. She has also a graduate of Olive Nazarene University, where she earned her doctorate in Ethical Leadership.
