New Delhi on the other hand is referred to as the Imperial city when the British decided to move their capital from Calcutta in 1911. On arrival, traditional Indian welcome of Tikka, Garland will be accorded. After a non-alcoholic welcome drink, check in to your booked accommodations. Overnight in Delhi

DAY 03: DELHI

Walk through the old dusty alleyways and other interesting sights! Drive past the mighty and sprawling Red Fort, which was built in 1648 and stands along the river Yamuna. Continue to New Delhi to see the colonial architecture that defined the British era in India.

We'll travel to Qutab Minar complex - the tallest tower in world for centuries, erected by first Islamic rulers of India and still the most imposing, artistically carved and engraved sandstone pillar anywhere!

Culminate this day tour with a visit to a famous Sikh Temple, we go to our last stop Gurudwara Bangla Sahib, to see the Sikhs. Sikhism is a progressive religion (and in many respects, ahead of its time). At Bangla Sahib, you will see how this religion blends practices from Hinduism and Islam into something new. You can watch (and join if you like) the langar, the voluntary group cooking and feeding program at the Gurudwara. Dinner & Overnight stay

DAY 09: JAIPUR-GOA (ARRIVAL) (B/-/-)

Today you will be transferred to Airport for your flight to Goa. Welcome to Goa! The former Portuguese enclave of Goa, one of India's gems, has been popular with tourists for many years with its magnificent palm-fringed beaches and renowned "travelers' scene". It has much more to offer than sun, sand and sea. Goa has a character quite distinct from the rest of India, and the people are fun-loving and relaxed, having retained some of the gaiety of the Portuguese. On arrival at Goa International Airport you will be met and transferred to your hotel for check in. Overnight in Goa

DAY 10: GOA (B/-/-)

Visit Old Goa: Ruled by the Portuguese for centuries the remnants of their influence are still apparent in their former capital. Once a major city with a population larger than London in the 16th century, a series of misfortunes, plague and flooding, forced the Portuguese to move their capital to Panaji in the mid-19th century. What remains is magnificent and now designated as a UNESCO World Heritage Site, dominated by several grandiose churches and cathedrals. Enjoy your afternoon at leisure. Overnight in Goa

DAY 11: GOA - MUMBAI (B/-/-)

Morning fly to Mumbai. Mumbai or Bombay is the capital of Maharashtra and the economic powerhouse of India. It's the fastest moving, most affluent and the most industrialized city in India. Yet, once upon a time, Mumbai was nothing more than a group of low-lying swampy mud plots presented to the British by its Portuguese occupiers as a wedding gift in 1661. On arrival at Mumbai Airport you will be met and transferred to your hotel. Overnight in Mumbai

DAY 12: MUMBAI (B/-/-)

This morning visit the Prince of Wales Museum (closed on Mondays). Housing many interesting artefacts, the museum structure itself is a work of art. Designed by architect George Wittet, who also designed the Gateway of India, the museum is crowned by an impressive white dome. During your visit, admire displays of jade work, weapons from the Mughal Empire, and clay and terracotta figures from the 3rd century BC. The main sculpture room contains excellent Greek influence 4th and 5th century heads and figures from the Buddhist state of Gandhara, a former colony of Alexander the Great. The main attraction, however, is a superb collection of Indian paintings, including manuscripts and miniatures. Drive along Marine Drive, Mumbai's most popular seaside promenade, and see Kamla Nehru Park and the Hanging Gardens on the slopes of the Malabar Hills; from where you will have a wonderful view of Mumbai and the Arabian Sea spread out before you along with Chowpatty Beach. Then continue on to Mani Bhawan, the Gandhi Museum, for an intriguing visit. Serving as Mahatma Gandhi's Bombay base between 1917 and 1934, Mani Bhawan now serves as a museum and memorial. A series of tiny dioramas tell Gandhi's life story; photos covering the walls capture historic events; a sitting room and bedroom preserved behind glass take you back through time; and personal artefacts offer insights into Gandhi's hopes and struggles. One letter is addressed to Hitler, asking him to refrain from war. Gandhi also corresponded with Roosevelt, Tolstoy and Einstein. Then discover the fascinating Dhobi Ghat. Each day laundry from all over Mumbai is brought here soaped, soaked, boiled, beaten, and thrashed. The next day, after being aired, pressed, folded and wrapped, the bundles are returned from where they came. The secret that keeps the operation running smoothly is the coded symbol that each dhobi-wallah places on every item. Afterwards drive past the Flora Fountain before visiting Chhatrapati Shivaji Terminus (formerly the Victoria Terminus) a 19th century railway station in Mumbai, known for its architectural mix of Victorian Gothic Revival and traditional Indian features. It is a symbol of the blossoming period of Mumbai as a commercial city in the late 19th century; it was inspired by St. Pancras Station in London. It was built during Queen Victoria's Golden Jubilee year. The building has an extraordinary conglomeration of domes, spires, Corinthian columns and minarets in a style described by journalist James Cameron as "Victorian-Gothic-Saracenic-Italianate-Oriental-St. Pancras-Baroque." The first trains in India left from this station in 1853; today half a million commuters use this station every day. Spend time in Crawford Market the centre of market life in South Mumbai since it was built in the days of the British Raj. Overnight in Mumbai

DAY 01: DELHI - VARANASI (FLIGHT) (B/-/-)

Flight 9W 2423 @ 1045/1210 HRS - or similar

Today you will be transferred to Delhi International Airport for your flight to the ancient city of Varanasi, the center of Hindu culture. A holy city dedicated to Shiva, Varanasi has survived the centuries because of its sanctified place in Indian religious life.

Varanasi, the city of Shiva on the banks of the Ganges, is one of Hinduism's seven holiest cities. With its temples, over a hundred ghats and labyrinth of streets, the city cannot be described, only experienced. Also known as Benares or Kashi, Varanasi is the oldest living city in India, and one of the world's most ancient and the center of Hindu culture. Hindu devotional movements flourished here, and it is still the chief center of Sanskrit learning in North India. Varanasi has survived the centuries because of its sanctified place in Indian religious life. This afternoon visit Sarnath (closed on Fridays), a major Buddhist center in the world. Tour the ruins, dominated by the Dhamekh Stupa. Supposedly after achieving enlightenment at Bodhgaya, Buddha, the 'Awakened One', delivered his first sermon here. It was in the 6th century then, when he also set in motion the wheel of law, the Dharmachakra by initiating his first five disciples into Buddhist monkhood. Dhamekh Stupa is an imposing cylindrical structure (43.5m high) of the Gupta age, partly built of stone and partly of brick. Its stone basement has eight projecting faces with large niches for statuary and is further adorned with delicately carved floral and geometrical patterns. The monument has been turned into ruins by weather and rain and not by humans. See the ruins of the monasteries and the remains of Ashoka Pillar which once stood over 20m high. Visit the archaeological museum at Sarnath displaying finds from the site, including the famous lion capital from the Ashoka Pillar. This evening visit the ghats (bathing steps) on the Ganges by candle-lit boat and witness the intriguing 'Aarti' Ceremony (collective prayer). Observe the mystical scene displayed before you of the many Ghats lit with oil-lamp lights, Brahmans chanting hymns and numerous floating oil lamps. The evening aarti of the Ganga River is a must-watch sight and is acclaimed the world over for its breath-taking environs. Performed daily at the Dashashwamedh Ghat, the Agni Puja (prayer with fire) signifies a commitment made to all the Gods and Goddesses. The brass lamps are lit and then the priests chant mantras, which fill the atmosphere with a divine feel. Donning the Indian attire of dhoti kurta, these priests also light up incense sticks, the smoke of which further adds to the mystical charm. Then beautiful Marigold flowers and raw milk are also offered as part of the aarti ritual. Once the puja is over, hundreds of earthen lamps are set into the waters to float. This ritual is a symbol of respect and devotion for the Ganga River, which is regarded as a mother in Hindu culture. The captivating sight of lamp shadows adorning the pristine waters like jewels is a treat to watch. Overnight in Varanasi

Optional: Dine at the Great Kabab Factory inc transfers - CAD 75 per person

The glorious taste of kababs made from age old recipes is the allure of this iconic restaurant. Avant-garde interiors combined with a well-known classic menu, filled with delicious kababs and breads, make it an irresistible treat.

DAY 02: VARANASI (B/-/-)

Before sunrise, drive to the Ghats to take a boat ride on the Ganges. Witness the fascinating early morning rituals performed by Hindu devotees along the river bank which includes the cremation Ghats. People bathe early in the morning to offer the prayers to the rising sun. The two cremation ghats are Manikarnika & Harishchandra where funeral pyres burn day and night. Every pious Hindu believes that to die in Kashi and to be cremated on the banks of the Ganges is to attain release from the cycle of birth and death. Begin your journey from the main and one of the oldest ghats, the Dashashwamedh ghat. One of the most spectacular river banks, this revered ghat is the main ground for the world-renowned evening Ganga aarti. The ghat got its name from the age-old fable that 10 horses were sacrificed here. As your boat moves up-stream towards another important ghat, the Harish Chandra Ghat, you will witness the sight of various sadhus and saints performing their morning puja. The popular Harish Chandra ghat is named after the namesake popular Hindu king, who was known for his belief in honesty and truth. The king worked at the cremation ground located on this ghat. As per popular fables, he was rewarded by the gods for his strong resolve, and belief in truth and charity. As a result, he got back his lost throne and dead son. This ghat serves as a cremation ground even today. This is why it is believed that if a person's body is cremated at this ghat, his soul attains moksha. As you ride further, you will witness the bustling banks, dotted with myriad beautiful temples and shops selling knick-knacks for puja rituals. On your way back, the boat will move down-stream, passing through another popular cremation ground -- Manikarnika ghat. As you sail, you might witness a few burning corpses at this ghat. Return to the hotel for breakfast before touring the city visiting Bharat Mata Temple with its large marble relief map of India, Durga Temple and the modern marble Tulsi Manas Temple whose walls are engraved with scenes and verses from the Ramcharitmanas, the Hindi version of the Ramayana. You will also see the New Viswanath Temple, one of the tallest in India (non Hindus are not allowed inside the temple).
