

Rosalyn Taylor
Hampton Roads Food Safety Company

Mrs. Rosalyn Taylor is the operator of Hampton Roads Food Safety Company. Mrs. Taylor serves as a Food Safety Educator and Consultant. She teaches the National Restaurant Associations' ServSafe Certified Professional Food Manager class to restaurants and retail establishments. Hampton Roads Food Safety Company has partnered with the Virginia Peninsula Foodbank to assist them in their food safety needs. Mrs. Taylor was honored with the 2014 Education and Training Award presented by the Virginia Peninsula Foodbank. She is a member of the Virginia Peninsula Foodbank Nutrition Programs Advisory Council and Central Atlantic States Association of Food and Drug officials.

Mrs. Taylor has worked for over 25 years in the food industry with regulatory agencies and food service organizations. She is a graduate of Virginia State University with a degree in Biology and a Master of Science degree in Environmental Health from East Tennessee State University.