"It is an exciting opportunity for both ABNB and Vicky to help us as we expand into a new market area and introduce ABNB's values, products and extraordinary member service to the Yorktown and surrounding communities. She brings a wealth of knowledge in financial services including banking, investments and insurance. With her ties to the local community, we're looking forward to her rekindling many relationships with residents and small businesses in the area," concluded Valentin.

"I am honored to have the opportunity to be a part of ABNB," stated James. "My passion has always been helping members be financially successful. During my career, I have achieved this by developing long term relationships with existing members and getting to know new members, treating both as if they were my own family. I'm excited to be a part of a compassionate company that strongly believes in putting members first," concluded James.
