Director of Development
Eggleston

Danielle Cronin Nance is the Director of Development at Eggleston, a nonprofit that empowers adults with disabilities at home, at work and out in the community.

Danielle is responsible for growing and nurturing relationships with individual corporate, and foundation partners who help make Eggleston's mission possible.

Before joining Eggleston nearly a year ago, Danielle was with Goodwill of Central and Coastal Virginia for 13 years. She served in multiple management roles over the course of her tenure at Goodwill to include multi-store operations, public and community relations, and lastly in development.

Danielle is a native of Ohio and earned her B.A. in Journalism and Communication from The Ohio State University. She is a 2018 LEAD graduate and a prior Virginia Peninsula Chamber of Commerce Ambassador. She is wife to Brandon Nance and proud mother to 3 children ages 9, 10 and 20.
