Community Award Nomination Categories*

Awards recognize excellence in each category for people who live or work in, or for businesses and organizations located within, the greater Port Angeles geographic area.

Citizen of the Year: Recognizes the legacy of an individual's outstanding contributions, especially during the past year, to promoting a healthy, happy, and prosperous community.

Educator of the Year: Recognizes a teacher, coach, or educational staff member employed by the Port Angeles School District, or a private school in Port Angeles, who has exhibited impressive leadership and achieved exceptional results toward the overall development of youth in grade levels K-12.

Young Leader of the Year: Awarded to an individual, age 18-39, who exemplifies a commitment to the health and future of our community, and has made an impact during the past year beyond the responsibilities and expectations of their job.

Organization of the Year: Recognizes the non-profit, church, agency, or community service organization that has demonstrated an exceptional achievement of its mission, consistently improving quality of life in our community over the past year.

Business of the Year: Awarded to the business, large or small, that has shown consistent excellence as an employer, involvement as a corporate citizen of the community, and a recognized contributor over the past year to the general prosperity of our community.

Emerging Business of the Year: Awarded to a business that is no more than four years, and no less than one year, old — or has been significantly reinvented within that same window of time — and has recently filled a significantly unmet need or market, revitalized an area, or contributed altruistically beyond the mission or profit motive of the business.

*Nominees do not have to be Chamber Members, and Chamber Board Members are not eligible for individual awards (but the organizations they represent can be nominated).
