

Joshua G. Gross
Senior Vice President / Sr. Relationship Manager
Bank of America, N.A.

Joshua G. Gross is a Senior Vice President and Sr. Relationship Manager for Bank of America's Global Commercial Bank, focusing on middle market companies with annual revenue between $50 million up to $500 million. Josh has spent over five years with Bank of America's middle market practice, managing complex credit needs for both public and private companies. Transaction experience includes, credit facilities to support capital expansion, M&A and leveraged buy-outs. In 2014 Josh was recognized by Bank of America with one of their highest honors, Bank of America's APEX Award.

Josh began his banking career in 2003 with Union Bank focusing on credit needs of private banking clients. Later in his time at Union Bank, Josh focused on underwriting and portfolio management for Union Bank's participation in syndicated loans for large corporate borrowers with multiple verticals including healthcare, consumer finance, waste management, industrial manufacturing and REITs.

Josh earned his Bachelor's Degree in Economics from California State University Fullerton in 2003. Josh was born and raised in Santa Rosa, CA prior to moving to Southern CA to attend college in 2000. Josh's interests include philosophy, yoga and Brazilian Jiu Jitsu, he is married with one young son and lives in the San Fernando Valley.