Connections

Networking happens on many levels at CRBRA during various social events, golf tournament, member mixers, sporting clay and other activities in our seven county Charter. Get involved on a committee or council such as Future Industry Leaders, Remodelers Council, Code Council, Parade of Homes, Golf Committee, Professional Women in Building, Green Building Resource Group and more.

Education

CRBRA, NYSBA and NAHB are your complete education resource for workshops, classes, professional designations, webinars, e-publications and endless industry information. You must tap in to stay ahead of your competition.

Marketing & Exposure

Maximize a plan from the Sponsorship Opportunities Menu to expose your business to other members and/or consumers. Advertise on CRBRA's website or in our quarterly publication - Residential Building. Free and enhanced listing in CRBRA's Online Buyers Guide designed for consumers and members.

Powerful National Advocacy

National Association of Home Builders (NAHB) works with lawmakers, legislative and regulatory policies that are fair to our industry and keeps members informed. NAHB leverages the power of more than 140,000 members to effectively lobby on our behalf.

Effective State & Local Governmental & Regulatory Representation

CRBRA's Code Committee provides code updates, training with local building code officials and involvement with local ICC Chapter. On the state level, two full-time lobbyist work on your behalf promoting legislative and regulation beneficial to the building and remodeling industry and preventing industry over-regulation by state government.

Parade of Homes

In June, builders, architects, designers, craftsmen and material suppliers showcase the latest in residential construction during the premiere tour of new homes event to the public. The virtual tour extends the Parade of Homes for all involved for many months after the event.

Best in Building Awards

Over 40 award winning categories for designers, remodelers, associate members, Realtors, and builders to recognize the most creative, innovative, experimental and dedicated members for their efforts, investments and ingenuity. Awards are one of the most powerful and cost-effective marketing tools sending a positive message to your existing customers and attract new business. Get your entries ready for 2015.
