

Shayne Hamilton
CEO, True North Cannabis

Shayne Hamilton is the CEO of True North Cannabis (TNC), a Canadian hemp harvest service provider with a core focus on facilitating the supply of bulk, extract-ready, hemp-based CBD.

As the founder of TNC, Shayne brings over ten years of experience in growing medicinal cannabis and providing related patient consulting services. Mr. Hamilton's passion has been long tied to the medical cannabis industry. In 2015, this passion led him to industrial hemp for the purposes of CBD research. Since that time, he has dedicated his expertise towards understanding the unique challenges that come with harvesting industrial hemp and producing a commercially viable source of CBD.
