

Kevin Cain,
Founder and Director,
Modern Hemp Innovations Inc.

Mr. Cain is the founder and one of four directors of Modern Hemp Innovations Inc. (MHI), an innovative company based in Notre Dame, NB., focused on the industrial hemp sector.

Mr. Cain has a background in masonry construction, construction management and quality control spanning over thirty-five years, in which he was owner/operator of a masonry company providing high end block, brick and stone masonry services as well as quality control services with a development corporation for both commercial and residential applications.

In the field of construction is where his interest in the industrial hemp plant was first awakened, over two decades ago, when he was introduced to a new masonry unit made from "Hempcrete".

Mr. Cain took on the challenge and is very excited to be part of one of the companies focused on helping develop the hemp industry here in New Brunswick and the Atlantic provinces.

Having followed guidance from the CHTA and many industrial hemp experts, 7 years as a member of the CHTA and with several years dedicated to industrial hemp industry studies, and 4 years fielding many calls coming from the Maritimes, both Mr. Cain and MHI are excited to be part of the industrial hemp industries' growth in the Atlantic region.
