

NOMINATION FORM

The Future Leaders Forum (FLF) is a collaborative group committed to developing the next generation of leaders for the construction industry. We strive to have the highest quality membership from our nominating companies and focus our programs on expanding the current industry experience and the network of our members.

It is recommended that nominees have a minimum of 4-5 years industry experience. There are a limited number of members, and the goal is to maintain the status of this nomination as an honor to have received. Many past FLF members are now playing key leadership roles within their organizations.
