3. To Teach: Elected leaders need guidance on finding fair solutions to growth issues that balance the needs of economic development, the environment and the community, while protecting the rights and interests of property owners.

4. To Learn: The TCC's Luncheon Learns provide a forum for exchanging ideas with elected officials and influential area leaders while addressing today's most pressing issues.

6. To Protect: The anti-growth movement is back in numbers with a membership that is organized, motivated, well-funded and influential. The TCC must be the same!
